

PROJECT OBJECTIVE

The implementation of this project aims at the purchase of emergency intervention equipment in Tomesti commune in Iasi county and in Ialoveni town in Ialoveni district, Republic of Moldova. The beneficiaries of the project will be the local communities and the local authorities, which will benefit from the project results. Each local community will enjoy a shorter intervention time in case of emergency situations, as the intervention operations will be carried out under their own management. The objective of the proposed project is to have in the territory an own vehicle for quick and efficient interventions, to create a developed infrastructure, in which the inhabitants and the authorities will work together for the efficient use of local resources, as well as to increase the quality of life.

PROJECT RESULTS

- Purchase of 2 emergency response equipment by the two project partners. The purchase of this equipment is the overall objective of the project, as it will be used to solve and prevent various unforeseen situations that may occur in the partner communities and may affect both their lives and property.
- planning and conducting 2 joint training exercises for personnel involved in the management of emergency response vehicles. The training sessions will take place both in Romania and in the Republic of Moldova.
- 2 information and education campaign for students. Thus at each educational unit of the two partner localities, campaigns will be organized where students will learn about the importance of a community having its own emergency response vehicle.
